THE VERDUGO WASH

Mr. Sidney Dell's Project for a Storm Drain District and a Grand Eucalyptus Avenue Gets a Set-back

Since the time when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, the stream which comes out of Verdugo Canyon, a portion of the year, has like all other streams in California, been something of a menace in time of flood to the lands below. In times past before man made any attempt to control it, the flood waters doubtless followed many courses year after year on their way to the Los Angeles river. But for twenty years or so past the stream after reaching the southern extremity of the canyon, has been following a southwesterly course through the property of Judge E. M. Ross and Capt. C. E. Thom, thence on southward of Casa Verdugo through the West Glendale section, under the trestle bridge over the S. P. Ry. on the San Fernando road thence to the river. The last serious trouble with this stream was in 1889 when the strenuous efforts of citizens was required to prevent the Ross packing house from going down stream and when quite a section of a four or five-year-old navel orange orchard belonging to Judge Ross was washed out. Five years ago considerable water left the sandy bed of the stream and flowed down Brand boulevard doing some slight damage principally by the deposit of sand. Last winter Louise street above the city limits was damaged some at the crossing of the wash. Altogether Sydney Dell, Esq., who resides on Louise street, was justified in giving the subject of the proper control of this occasional vagrant stream serious consideration and as a consequence he has been doing some agitation along that line for some weeks past. Through his initiative, a meeting was held at the office of Parker & Sternberg, some two weeks ago, followed by a larger one at the city hall last Monday evening. Under the law of the state a community can form a storm water district comprising property affected by such a condition as is outlined, and through a bond issue can raise money for purposes of defence against menacing floods. The formation of such a district is dependent upon a majority vote of the voters residing in the district to be included in the territory affected. At the time of voting upon the subject they also vote for a certain number of trustees who shall handle the funds, and manage the whole affair.

It was the idea of Mr. Dell that such a district could be formed of that section of country contiguous to the wash and all along its course to the river for some distance back, taking in nearly all of this portion of the valley. Tropico sent a strong delegation consisting of Messrs. Watson, Shuey, Wattles, Murray, Myers and Shoemaker. Mr. W. A. Anderson, city trustee, acted as chairman, and Mr. H. L. Howe as secretary of the meeting. Mr. Dell outlined his project, to which he had evidently given considerable thought. His idea was that there would be five thousand acres that ought to comprise the proposed district. He thought that $50,000 ought to put the channel in such shape that the sand instead of accumulating as it does at present in the bed of the stream, would wash down and be deposited at the outlet where the stream empties into the Los Angeles river. He believed that this sand be sold and be a source of very considerable revenue. In addition to this Mr. Dell is anxious to see a "Eucalyptus Boulevard" from the mouth of the Verdugo Canyon to the Los Angeles river and this could be secured as incidental to the control of the flood waters from the wash.

The general discussion developed considerable information in regard to other storm water districts and developed very strong opposition to the project. Mr. Watson stated that the expense of one or two other districts which exist in the San Gabriel river section has been enormous, in one instance the assessment for the expenses of the district amounting to something like $13 on the $100 of valuation. Mr. Wattles spoke from the standpoint of a practical engineer familiar with the districts already established, declaring that the work in them would prove ineffective in time of severe floods, had done so in some instances, and was entirely inadequate for protection, notwithstanding the large sums expended. He said that Tropico would not come into such a district for the reason that ordinarily Tropico was not menaced by the storm waters and that in the event of a very serious flood any work that might be done in the way of providing a channel for flood water would be of no avail. Rev. Shoemaker spoke of his experience in Pasadena, where he was interested in one of these storm water districts and testified to their inadequacy and expensiveness.

Mr. Wattles expressed the opinion that the best results could be obtained by the use of wire netting at the points along the line of the stream most likely to be subject to overflow, an expedient which has proved very effectual elsewhere and is also inexpensive. Mr. Anderson stated that the Glendale trustees would probably take the matter up with the county supervisors and endeavor to effect an arrangement by which teh care of the wash would be undertaken by the two bodies jointly. Mr. Dell expressed the opinion as a lawyer that the city could not go outside the corporation to make such expenditure. Finally Rev. Shoemaker offered the following resolution which was adopted unanimously, with the lonesome exception of Mr. Dell's vote against it:

"RESOLVED, That it is the sense of this meeting that not being in possession of the necessary data to enable us to act intelligently, it is inadvisable at this time to proceed in the matter of organizing a storm drain district."

The chairman appointed the following committee to confer with the supervisors and see what is practicable to be done in regard to the matter: Messrs. Watson, Stine, Traphagen, Howe, Shoemaker, Elliott and Sherer.

THIRD MONDAY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

Forgetful of the heat the Maids and Matrons and friends of the Country Club enjoyed a delightful entertainment under the direction of their hostess, Mrs. R. E. Chase.

The program was opened by music, Miss Lelia Butler of Los Angeles presenting Shubert's "Impromptu" to an appreciative audience, followed by a vocal solo, "May Morning," by Miss Laura Pirtle, sung in such a delightful manner that she was called back and sang a dainty little encore, "If No One Ever Marries Me."

Immediately after the songs a lone man walked into this assembly of ladies and with pipe in hand comfortably seated himself in a Morris chair in the corner and fell a'dreaming, at which Mrs. Chase explained that although he no longer was a bachelor, he once had been and therefore could indulge in bachelor reveries. A song suited to the picture was sung by Miss Pirtle, which must surely set Dr. Hurtt to dozing, for suddenly there walked across his line of vision (likewise the guests) a little bare-footed maid in a gingham dress and pink sunbonnet whom some say was Harriet Williams, but she looked very much like James Whitcomb Riley's first sweetheart. She was followed by the society girl and in leisurely succession there tripped by a dainty miss in fluffy pink dress and black lace shawl, a pink rose hanging so tantelizing from a curl over one shoulder instantly reminding all of the "Old-Fashioned Girl;" a little Spanish girl dressed in bright yellow with the ever-present lace mantilla thrown over her head; then a quaint little lady in iris-colored kimono; the demure young lady in nun's apparel; the sea-shore girl; the college girl; they all pass by. Then came the widow and the dreamer smiles while the strains of Lohengrin fall upon his ear and a little flower girl, followed by a bride, slowly came into view, and this time the man wakes and finds it not all a dream, for he is no longer a bachelor, and he laughs at the little play and goes away. The parts were taken by Harriet Williams, Miss Laura Pirtle, society girl; Miss Berenice Williams, old-fashioned girl; Spanish girl, Margaret Kelso; Japanese girl, Mrs. Hinkley; nurse, Miss Ewing Williams, sea-shore girl, Miss Pirtle; college girl, Mrs. Chase; widow, Miss Ewing Williams; the bride, Mrs. Hutton, with her little niece, Shirley Chase, as flower girl.

Much of the success was due to Mrs. Helman, who stood in the background and read to the accompaniment of music as each "dream" went by.

Charades were then given, followed by refreshments, after which or after as a continuation every one went into the dining room to feast on melons, so lavishly provided and so lavishly disposed of.

Mrs. Hurtt Honored

A delightful afternoon was that enjoyed by a number of ladies at the home of the artist, Mr. Eugene Frank, on Wednesday, when Mrs. and Miss Frank entertained in honor of Mrs. Hurtt, recently brought to Glendale a bride by the genial doctor, L. H. Hurtt. Social converse and a unique guessing program for which a prize was awarded were enjoyed. A happy feature of the afternoon was a visit across the court to the artists' studio, where he was at work upon a canvas of Santa Barbara Mission. Many and valuable paintings representiug a wide range of subjects portrayed by the masterful brush of this artist, claimed the attention and interesting explanations of pictures by the artist were enjoyed. Strange is the mood of nature in a scene of the Mediteranean showing that usually deep blue water a vivid green during the raging of the dreaded sirocco. Delicious refreshments were charmingly served on the corridor overlooking the court, cool and inviting with palms and tropical luxuriance, and all were delighted with the afternoon and the privilege of meeting this cultured and interesting lady who will prove a desirable acquisition to Glendale society.

SCHULTZ-PALMER.

Interesting to a large number of friends will be the announcement of the wedding Thursday afternoon, of Miss Lucile Schultz, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Schultz of Glendale, to T. C. Palmer, of Los Angeles.

The service was very simple, only relatives being present; the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. William Davis officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer left for an eastern trip and will return to Glendale to make their home.

The bride is a graduate of the State Normal School, and has been teaching in the Glendale Grammar School for the past two years. She has won for herself considerable fame as a tennis player.

The Domestic Gas Company on June 26th last announced in pages of the NEWS, "We will have gas in Glendale in 90 days."

Mrs. Albert Cornelius Anderssen entertained for her six months' old daughter, on Wednesday afternoon. The hearts of many little boys and girls were made glad with games and the inevitable refreshments, ice cream, animal crackers, etc.

A sister of Mr. W. E. Tarr, of the Verdugo Grocery, whom he has not seen for twenty years, arrived last Sunday morning from her recent home in Oregon. The same afternoon she was one of a company of twenty-four people all related to one another, who met to welcome her to Southern California.

Mr. F. A. Anderson, formerly manager of one of our local packing houses, called at the NEWS office last Saturday. Mr. Anderson is manager of one of the heaviest shipping concerns at Covina where he has been for the past two years. He still owns some property in Glendale and rejoices to see us grow.

Prof. Moyse has returned to Glendale, leaving Mrs. Moyse at Redlands where he reports that she is slowly regaining health.

He wishes to announce in the NEWS that pupils desiring to see him, will find him at the old High School building during the coming week from 8 a. m. to 12 m.

The Mitchell and Pulliam families are still in retiement at Camp Rincon on the San Gabriel. A recent photograph received from there shows Mr. Mitchell partially concealed behind a large trout which had just been caught. It's a fish that can't possibly be stretched out much larger even in the telling of it.

Mr. Hiram Ogden has returned from a six weeks' visit to Washington and Oregon and the Seattle exposition. He intended to remain a week or two longer but becoming ill hastened his return to Glendale. He speaks in flattering terms of the exposition, particularly in regard to the beauty of the grounds and the general charm of the whole exhibit.

Mrs. C. M. Scott, 1623 Glendale avenue, celebrated her 67th birthday Sunday, August 1st.

Miss Frieda Pysche of the Conservatory of Music of Chicago, gave several musical numbers, assisted by Mr. Shipley of Los Angeles.

Sloan, at their pleasant home, 1326 Seventh street, Glendale, in honor of their nephew and brother, W. Arthur Sloan, a well-known mining engineer, now chemist and mineralogist for the Shannon Copper Co., Clifton, Arizona. Those present were Mrs. Jennie E. Harris; the Misses Eunice L. Harris, Elsie H. Ferguson, Celia B. Harris, Jennie C. Sloan; Messrs. R. Stanley Harris, W. Arthur Sloan and W. S. Sloan.

Among recent returning travelers is Mr. George Peters who has been spending several weeks at Seattle and other Northern points. Mr. Peters was impressed with the wonderful evidences of growth furnished by Seattle, where over twenty large business houses are in process of erection, averaging in height fully as much as similar structures in Los Angeles, 12 stories being quite common. Tacoma and Portland are also growing rapidly and give evidence of great prosperity. Mr. Peters speaks in very high terms of the exhibition at Seattle.

W. H. Williams and Thos. Jandon, brother and nephew of Mrs. J. L. Overton, are visiting the exposition and other places in Washington and Oregon. After a five days' stay at Seattle are now en route for Portland and San Francisco, to remain a few days at each place and then to Los Angeles and Glendale. These gentlemen are distinguished educators of Kansas City, Mo., being principals of large public schools in that city. They are both sprightly old batchelers and are expecting the attractions of Glendale to be of more than usual interest.

A BLIND PIG IN GLENDALE

Drug Store Proprietor Arrested

For some time past there have been rumors in circulation to the effect that Glendale was not "so very dry," and that the initiated could be supplied with strong drink if possessed of the proper passwords. The city authorities getting a tip some weeks ago, turned the matter over to the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr. T. W. Watson, with full power to act and a detective was at once set to work. As a result, J. J. Nesom of the Miradero Pharmacy on Brand boulevard was arrested yesterday (Friday) afternoon and brought before Recorder Whomes. The affair occurring just as we go to press, interesting details will have to be deferred until our next issue.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Newell will preach at this church at 11 a. m. and at the union service in the Methodist church in the evening at 7:45.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH.

There will be the usual service of morning worship at 11 o'clock with a short sermon by the pastor, Rev. M. S. Runkle. The public is cordially invited and all persons are welcome. The Sunday school meets at 10 o'clock sharp at the parish hall at the corner of Third and Jackson.

The subject of the sermon for Sunday will be "Two Men and One Prayer."

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Services as usual next Sunday. The pastor will preach at both morning and evening services. The Sunday School on Sunday showed a marked increase in attendance and general interest. When all are home from vacations and outings our quarters are again going to be crowded. Hence the crying need for more room. The social given by the Ladies' Aid last week was a most enjoyable affair both in entertainment and a good social time.

As the fall season approaches it is hoped that our weekly prayer meetings will again resume their former interest and attendance. Let all remember this most important meeting of the church.

REAL ESTATE.

Mr. O. C. Lagan, Sr., has sold for John A. Cole the latter's residence on the corner of Third and Brand boulevard to Mr. Glynn of Great Falls, Mont. It is understood that a relative of the new owner will occupy the property at once but that ultimately the house on the property will be moved away and a business block erected in its place.

The same agent recently sold for W. K. Dow six lots on the west side of Central avenue, corner of Third. Improvements will be put on one of them at once.

Dr. Rudy has sold his place at Lomita Park, and will immediately commence building on the adjoining lot.

Miss A. F. Goff will build at 316 Belmont street a one-story, five-room residence to cost $1200. T. H. Addison, contractor.

SURPRISE AND BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The 14th of August being her birthday as well as the date of the marriage of Mrs. Wm. Mitchell of Lomita Park, it was fitly celebrated last Saturday evening at her home by a small party of friends, the affair being in the nature of a surprise engineered by Miss Frances Eyre, daughter of Mrs. Mitchell, assisted by Miss Ina Whitaker.

The entertainers and their guests spent the evening delightfully in the open air under the arbor covered with passion vines among which hung bright red peaches pendent from trees that spread their branches above. The program consisted of progressive whist and most seductive refreshments. Mrs. J. C. Sherer was awarded first prize for the highest score. The guests were the following: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hunt, Miss Emma Penn, Miss Ina Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sherer, Mr. W. P. Penn, Mr. J. W. Penn, Mr. Kelley.

MILK THIEVES.

Are complained of by one of our dairymen. They have been stealing bottles from porches and elsewhere. The complainant says that it wouldn't be so bad if they stole the milk only, although that is bad enough, but they take the bottle around the milk which is worth more than its contents.

Vaudeville and Minstrels

MEETING OF HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT TRUSTEES.

The board of trustees held an important meeting Friday afternoon of last week at which several matters of importance were disposed of. The appointment of a music teacher, which had been deferred from time to time, was finally settled by the appointment of Mrs. D. L. Gibson, of West First street. There were two petitions before the board, one for the appointment of Mrs. Gibson and the other favoring the reappointment of Mrs. Anderson, who filled the position last year and who has been employed by the Glendale City Trustees to teach music in the grammar schools for the coming year. Mrs. Gibson comes with excellent recommendations from Ventura county, where she last taught.

It was decided to call a special election Sept. 13th to vote on the question of authorizing a bond issue of $15,000 to furnish the new building and improve the grounds of the new high school. This action is made necessary by the fact that the trustees have not been able to secure a satisfactory offer for the old high school property at Fourth and Brand.

In regard to improvements on the newly acquired property it was decided to employ Mr. Blaine, the superintendent of Forest Lawn Cemetery, to draw up a plan for the grounds in conjunction with Mr. Edward Lynch, city engineer, who will furnish the official grades. The school will open in the new building on Sept. 7th.

FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF THE METHODIST CHURCH.

The Foreign Missionary Society held its regular meeting at the Methodist church, Thursday, the 12th, it being "Mite Box Day."

The usual business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Hendershott, a meeting in which the ladies were especially interested as plans were formed for an evening social to be given next month in honor of one of their prominent district officers, Mrs. Woodcock, formerly of Pasadena. After the regular business was laid aside the opening of the mite boxes was an event of intense interest, especially when it was learned the contributions were larger than any in previous years.

Following this was the mystery box in charge of Mrs. Dana Goss, a half hour of questions and answers about the countries where their interest in missions took them, concluding with a duett by Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Potts, and a reading by Mrs. Henry Johnson, a character sketch of an old Yankee woman averse to missions, but later relenting so well portrayed that Mrs. Johnson's audience listened with breathless interest.

CITY TRUSTEES.

All present except Mr. Grant. Demands as follows were referred to the Finance Committee:

Minnie A. Cross, Typewriting, etc	$ 6.38
Verdugo P. & R. Co., Water	16.00

Demands previously referred were reported back approved.

A communication was received from Sidney Dell regarding the proposed storm water district for care of water from Verdugo wash and accompanied by a written opinion as to the practicability under the law of including the City of Glendale in a storm water district. An ordinance to establish the grade of Fourth street from Adams street to Verdigo Road was taken up and passed first and second reading.

A resolution approving map of Pinewood Terrace and accepting on behalf of the public the avenues, streets, alleys and public places shown thereon, was read and adopted.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL.

On Saturday evening all paths in Glendale led to the Country Club House where an ice cream social was given by Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mrs. Price Brown and Mrs. C. F. Parker.

The rooms so brightly lighted enhanced the beauty of the unusually effective combination of pink roses and white eucalyptus blossoms, so deftly arranged about the rooms.

Although so many are away at this season of the year the rooms were filled with well contented guests.

The dining room had been transformed into a card room for the evening, where some found entertainment, while others danced or met by instinct on the porches where tables laden with home-made cakes and ice cream gave convincing proof of the urgent need of warm weather.

The gentlemen were not idle but waxed eloquent over the project of forming a billiard tournament, the details of which are to be arranged later.

IMPORTANT TRANSFERS.

Just before going to press we hear of the sale by Mr. L. C. Brand of his interests in the brick buildings on Brand boulevard, including the Masonic Hall block in which the First National Bank is located. The southwest corner of Brand and Fourth street has also changed hands. We are unable at this time to state the name of the purchasers or give further details.

Dr. Bemis, D.D., will give ten dollars to anyone in Los Angeles county who will give chapter and verse telling what relation the fourth prophet was to the sixth, and what they prophesied of.

If you want the best of meats for the least money, go to Glendale Market.

Try Carney's Shoe Store at 536 Fourth street, Glendale, for your next pair of shoes.

City Marshal Miller arrested a hard looking customer Thursday morning who had been around Glendale for some days past, but who seems to be a waif from Nowhere. When arrested he was well loaded with alcohol and had a bottle or two of strong drink in his clothes. He was chained up in the fire house to sober up, giving an object lesson on the necessity for a city jail.

You can get your feet fitted perfectly at Carney's Shoe Store.

LADIES AID SOCIAL.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church met for a social hour with Mrs. C. F. Parker Friday afternoon, at her home on Central avenue.

As the ladies entered, a name of some noted personage was pinned on each one's back and only by constant conversation, questioning and guessing could they tell their new names or what they did.

Music was thoroughly enjoyed, the guests being especially favored by hearing Mr. Anderson, a teacher in the California College of Music, who played for them, and also listened to a couple of piano selections by Miss Nellie Brigham.

Another game was proposed in which Miss Hopping and Mrs. Miner were the fortunate victors, receiving interior photographs of their hostess' dining room, where they have spent so many happy hours.

A quilt was presented to Mrs. Hopping by Mrs. Harrison in a gracious little speech in behalf of the ladies of the society.

Tea and cakes at the conclusion of the afternoon's entertainment.

POSTPONED PICNIC.

At a meeting of the executive committee a few evenings ago, it was decided to postpone the date of the Old Settlers' Picnic until Sept. 18th, next, when it will take place at Echo Park. The postponement seemed to be rendered necessary by reason of the apparently general desire of our people to attend the Sunday school picnic yesterday (Friday), as it was not thought probable that there would be many who cared to indulge in two successive days of picnicking.

JAPANESE IMMIGRATION.

In accordance with action of the last legislature the state of California is now engaged in taking a special census of Japanese residents of the state. A circular which comes to us therefore from the office of the consul general of Japan at San Francisco, is of interest. The recapitulation of the statistical statement made in this circular is as follows:

Excess arrivals in Japan from United States for 18 months....2,464
Excess arrivals in Japan from Hawaii for 18 months.....2,544

Decrease Japanese population in American territory for 18 mos..5008

The Associated Press takes the trouble to inform the anxious world that the Marlboroughs are "reconciled," which mighty matter being disposed of, allows that valuable news gathering agency to turn its attention to the weather.

The Los Angeles Times says that the county commissioners have "treated" 5000 trees infested with the black aphis at Lankershim and "cured" them. In Glendale they treated about a hundred trees and killed about fifty per cent of them.

The "Advisory" board in Los Angeles seems to be having difficulty in finding a market for its product.

The authorities of the University of Chicago complain that the "Social duties" of the students interfere with the regular college work. Dances and other functions of similar importance monopolize the time of the pupils to such an extent that there is no chance for study. The school authorities must be getting particular in Chicago. Do they think that Young America particularly the Chicagoese, will let the pursuit of knowledge interfere with the pursuit of pleasure?

THE NEW OR THE OLD?

The professors and heretical ministers are busy nowadays serving up new theories, new dogmas, new religions. Meanwhile have any of these delvers in experimental fields of metaphysics and skeptisism, ever given the old ideas, the old-fashioned theories of life and religion a fair trial? Have they lived the life? Has the old religion really been tried and found wanting—or has it been merely talked about and preached? If one really believes that the present unrest, and discontent with the old ideas of right living and wrong, is a precurser of the coming overthrow of the "wisdom of the ages," he needs only to be reminded that none of it is new, that it all lacks originality and history is but repeating itself—and will repeat itself still further, for the reaction will come and the old will be reestablished; perhaps slightly mended, rounded out and made more nearly perfect—but still the old. The religions of the world will be known by different names perhaps, but the perfect religion of the future will still rest upon the foundation principle of the Divine Jew of twenty centuries ago: "Do unto others that which ye would that they do unto you."

JANE ADDAMS FOR PRESIDENT.

There you have it. Looks real nice, eh? The lady named above is to be the candidate of the Suffragettes of America for president of the United States. At least, some of the suffragetters say so and they are so enthusiastic about it that no real lady can say them nay, but will rush right off to the polling place on election day and vote for Jane. Not Jennie, nor Jeannette,—but just plain Jane!

But there the plainness stops—it is not plain Adams—bless you, no! Her full nomenclature up to date is Jane Addams. Mark the double "d," Ad-dams, or possibly Add-ams—really, it sounds almost profane when you ponder over it, and moreover as you ponder it becomes more ponderous. In fact, Jane Addams sort-of grows upon you while you wait and ponder. We have a suspicion that Miss Addams is English; probably English born and therefore not eligible to the presidency, dear ladies—had you thought of that? But, then, there is only a line or two in the constitution bearing upon that subject, anyhow—and if it is generally desired, why, of course—the constitution will look just as well without it, and you can hang a chromo over the hole so that the hiatus will not be observable! So, there you are, Jane Addams, plain Jane and the double "d"—it's a rare combination. Worked out in worsted on a mauve background with a saffron pink border and hemstitched around the middle, it will be fetching in an eminent degree. We can fancy William Jennings Bryan and William Howard Taft taking to the tall timber, the former wearing a vague expression of unrest and not much else to speak of and the latter pining away to a cartload, both endeavoring heroically to escape from a country where Adams is spelled with two "d's." It will be a lively race. But really, Jane's chances would have been much better had she not made that uncalled for requisition on the alphabet.

THE GAME OF POLITICS.

From a book of essays by Ambrose Bierce, recently published, we extract the following and commend it to our friends who still have faith in the reformatory effect of statutes:

"Your statesman of a mental stature somewhat overtopping that of the machine-person puts his faith in law. Providence has designed to permit him to be persuaded of the efficacy of statutes—good, stringent, carefully drawn statutes definitely repealing the laws of nature in conflict with any of their provisions. So the poor devil (I am writing of Mr. Legion) turns for relief from law to law, ever on the stool of repentance, yet ever unfouling the anchor of hope. By no power on earth can his indurated understanding be penetrated by the truth that his woeful state is due, not to any laws of his own, nor to any lack of them, but to his rascally refusal to obey the Golden Rule. How long is it since we were all clamoring for the Australian ballot law, which was to make a new heaven and a new earth We have the Australian ballot law and the same old earth smelling to the same old heaven. Writhe upon the triangle as we may, groan out what new laws we will, the pitiless thong will fall upon our bleeding backs as long as we deserve it. If our sins, which are scarlet, are to be washed as white as wool it must be in the tears of a genuine contrition; our crocodile deliverances will profit us nothing. We must stop chasing dollars, stop lying, stop cheating, stop ignoring art, literature, and all the refining agencies and instrumentalities of civilization. We must subdue our detestable habit of shaking hands with prosperous rascals and fawning upon the merely rich. It is not permitted to our employers to plead in justification of low wages the law of supply and demand that is giving them high profits. It is not permitted to discontented employes to break the bones of contented ones and destroy the foundations of social order. It is infamous to look upon public office with the lust of possession; it is disgraceful to solicit political preferment, to strive and compete for "honors" that are sullied and tarnished by the touch of the reaching hand. Until we amend our personal characters we shall amend our laws in vain."

PRODUCTS AND MARKETS.

The fruit and vegetable producers of that section of our valley in the neighborhood of Lankershim and Burbank are experiencing the same old trouble in marketing their products that they have always experienced in years of plenty. In some quarters the trouble is attributed to a second general market having been established during the year past, in Los Angeles. We fail to see in this fact, however, any explanation of the trouble which is as old as the fruit industry in this section. Under present conditions, there is between the grower and the consumer, a great gulf fixed, and it is bridged over by the widespread middleman. He reaches the product up to the consumer, retains the larger portion of it and passes down the remainder to the grower. And yet the middleman is a necessity; it is possible for him to be useful to both classes and there should be room for him as a distributor of the products of the field, the orchard and the garden. But as far as the Los Angeles market is concerned there is something radically wrong. A walk along the streets past the stores where fruit is retailed at the present time, discloses the fact that the price to the consumer is at least twice as much as the producer receives. Peaches, for instance, retail at four pounds for ten cents, while the grower who spends a good portion of the daylight picking his fruit and considerable of the night in driving to market with it, is fortunate if he gets one cent a pound for it. And this wide margin is not made necessary because the stuff is perishable—there is almost as great a discrepancy in regard to the dried products. At any of the "best" groceries in Los Angeles the purchaser of dried fruit will pay twice as much as the producer receives. At one of these "best" stores some time ago a friend of the writer showed a sample of first-class fancy dried apricots to the proprietor who offered seven cents per pound. He was retailing the same fruit for fifteen! And yet this liberal (?) merchant is one of the most prominent business men in Los Angeles and a bright and shining light in the chamber of commerce. He, no doubt, gives large sums to charity, but in the way of business he will not pay a just price to the fruit grower. The grower of oranges, if he has a carload to dispose of, may receive a fair price for the fruit, but if he should try to sell a single box on the Los Angeles market, he will have difficulty in disposing of it. And yet if a tourist wants to buy a dozen oranges, he will pay as much for them as he would be asked in a market three thousand miles away. Now the effect of this policy reaches further than the particular transaction between the merchant and the farmer. It curtails consumption. This is the result along the full line of our products; people are deterred in some degree from their more general use. The retailer could dispose of more goods if he would be content with smaller profits; he might have to exert himself more, but his gain would be as great in the end and the farmer would have a more reliable market for his produce. But the retailers will not do this voluntarily. "The gods help those who help themselves," and the farmers of the San Fernando valley can depend upon no one else than themselves to cure the existing evil. They do not need to be dependent upon the two general markets of Los Angeles, nor upon certain firms of middlemen to handle their goods. Let them establish their own market, or if that is too large an undertaking, at least establish an agency for the sale of their products.

If co-operation were anything more than a beautiful theory, they should form a co-operative association for marketing, drying and canning fruits. Co-operation, however, is not much more than an irridescent dream when brought down to facts, but the establishment of an agency supported by growers of fruit, is an everyday business affair which should appeal to those interested as perfectly practicable.

A VENTURE IN MUSHROOMS.

Miss Minnie Kennedy of 111 East Second street, who has had some experience in mushroom culture, is putting up a building on her property at the above address in which when completed she will have a number of beds for the propagation of these edibles. The mushroom is considered a great delicacy and it is always in demand at a high price, but the difficulties attendant upon its culture keep the market from being overstocked. Miss Kennedy, while something of an enthusiast on thh subject, quite freely admits that the venture here is largely experimental, but having knowledge of the conditions necessary to success, believes that the result will be satisfactory. Several carloads of fertilizer have been procured, of which the beds will be made and in which the "spawn" will be planted. A crop is not expected until November. One of the important secrets of the mushroom grower's success is the knowledge of the time and the method of planting necessary to procure a crop at a time when the product will be in the best demand. During the winter after the rains, the natural crop found in the fields goes far to supply the demand and the price is not so satisfactory as in the summer.

That J. S. Pitman will act as Inspector, and B. F. Patterson and E. W. Richardson will act as Judges of said election, and conduct the same, said Inspector and Judges being competent and qualified electors of said High School District.

What is the general influence of Christianity upon business enterprise?

Should a worker for God cease his efforts if he sees he is hurting some person's business?

If the spread of Christianity hurts a class of business men, should we compensate the losers?

If Demetrius himself had become a Christian would it have been in his business interest in the long run?

Can a man be true and honorable who protests, for business reasons, against the application of Christian principles to the community?

Verses 28-29—How much sense or reason is there in an excited and angry individual or crowd?

Which is generally the more unreasonable, if not insane, an angry individual or an angry crowd?

Was it the danger to their business, or their religion, which most stirred the anger of these people?

Which interest most influences the average man, his business or his religion?

Who were Gaius and Aristarchus, and what influenced their illegal arrest?

Verses 30-31—Should a man risk his life for ever so good a cause, when he knows it will do no good?

Should a man ever refuse to risk his life for a good cause if, by so doing, he can conserve its interests?

What principles should guide us in running risks for the cause of God, which is always the cause of humanity?

Was Paul's first impulse right to rush in among this angry crowd?

When should we, and when should we not be governed by the first impulse?

Verse 32.—In the usual riot or mob, what proportion of the crowd know what they are contending for?

Verses 33-34—What did Alexander want to say to this mob?

Why did the people cry down Alexander?

Can any man reason correctly who is blinded by religious prejudice?

Verses 35-41—How do you estimate the character of this town clerk?

Are we under as much obligation to take good advice from a heathen or an infidel as we are from a Christian? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Who was the goddess Diana supposed to be, and what did her worship stand for?

Was it superstition pure and simple, or is there any ground for belief that the image of the goddess Diana did fall down from Heaven?

Is it ever wise to act when under the influence of anger or passion?

Does it often happen that one cool level headed man can disperse a mob?

Chapter 20:1—Do Christians in these days show the love they have one for another as they ought?

Lesson for Sunday, August 29th, 1909—Paul on Christian Love. 1 Cor. 13:1-13.
